Add Read

Devin sees the most recent additions to his 'lifetime reads' list, as well as a form for adding a new read. Rather than just typing the title and allowing the application to fill in the rest by hitting the 'Find Online' button, Devin knows that his new read is too obscure to be found in any old online database, so he fills in all the details himself and reviews the read. He also adds the new read to his favorite philosophy list with the 'Add to other lists' dropdown button.
